Citadel Enterprises Launches Blog

MOUNT PLEASANT, S.C. – Citadel Enterprises, a full service remodeling company, has launched a new blog. The online informational log is located on the web at www.citadelenterprises.blogspot.com and will be updated at least once a month.

Company officials say the blog is an excellent resource for anyone interested in home design. It will include photos of completed projects, tips on redesign from the company's AIA designated architect, an overview of the company's services, and important information on how homeowners can make their house more valuable with various home remodeling projects. "It is important for people who own older houses to know that renovating may be the best financial decision in this buyer's market," said Pete Loy, president of Citadel Enterprises. "Our blog will be a great resource to learn what rooms are the best to remodel and what designs will result in the largest financial return."

Citadel Enterprises provides remodeling, repair and design-build services with an emphasis on trust, service and neatness for the client who desires to work with an industry leading firm.
